

For those interested in the hotel's free shuttle from Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport, here is the information you need to catch the shuttle from the airport:

- The shuttle will run Monday through Sunday, 6:00 am to 10:00 pm.
- The shuttle bus is WHITE with the word "WELCOME" written in several different languages in blue color around the bus. On the passenger's front door, the hotel's name is printed – Hilton Alexandria Mark Center Hotel
- It will leave the Hilton Alexandria Mark Center on the hour from the front drive (exit from the lobby). It will then drop off passengers at the King Street train station for those that want to take the train to Washington, D.C.
- It will then proceed to Reagan National Airport and should arrive at the airport around 30 minutes after leaving the hotel.

The first pickup at the airport is Terminal A (Southwest Airlines, etc.). To get the shuttle, you need to exit the airport and cross roadway to get to the "shuttle bus" lane. There are several BROWN canopies. Locate the BROWN canopy marked "hotel shuttles" and wait for the shuttle to arrive. All hotel shuttles pick up from this location, so make sure you get on the right shuttle.

The next pickup is Terminal B – Door 3 (Delta, etc.). Exit the airport through door 3 and wait for the shuttle. DO NOT CROSS ANY LANES OF TRAFFIC.

The final pickup is Terminal B – Door 5 (American Airlines, etc.). Exit the airport through door 4 or door 6 (door 5 is closed) and wait for the shuttle IN FRONT OF DOOR 5. DO NOT CROSS ANY LANES OF TRAFFIC.

The shuttle will only wait a few moments at each pick up spot, so make sure that you are looking for the shuttle and get to it promptly when it arrives. There is construction at the airport and shuttles aren't allowed to wait for a long period of time before moving on.

If the timing for the hotel's shuttle doesn't work for your schedule, there are other shuttle and taxi options to get you to the hotel.
